GEMMA GARDNER

A YOUNG mother has this week thanked a "hero" passer-by who caught her baby after she threw him from a burning building in Harlow.

Robyn Jeffery, 17, was shouting for help from a first floor window of her family home in Churchfield when Bethan Woolford, 20, responded to her terrified screams. "I woke up to find thick black smoke everywhere," Robyn told the Star. "There was no other way to escape except my bedroom window on the middle floor. I couldn't see anything because the smoke was so thick.'

The former Burnt Mill School student, was trapped in the five-bedroom property with her one-year-old son Harley.

"I went to the window and I was just are went to the window and I was Just screaming 'help me, my baby is in here'," said Robyn. "I shouted 'please catch my baby'. She [Bethan] said 'I promise I will' and she caught him'."

Robyn said dropping Harley was "the most difficult decision of the said of the said

Aaron's Land Rover gets drive-on role in US show

A CAR and motorbike enthusiast's pride and joy is to appear in an American TV show.

Aaron Collinson, 44, of Tanyard Place, Harlow, was approached by producers of UFO X Files who wanted to use his lightweight 1979 military Land Rover for the series about alien sightings.

Mr Collinson, who works in the construction industry, said: "My life is motorbikes but every the construction in the constructio now and again I go through an Army vehicle stage.
"There are very few of these vehicles. I just got a call out of the blue and it was a fantastic experience.

Estate agents raising funds for Macmillan

HARLOW-based estate Agents Geoffrey Matthew has raises more than £700 for Macmillan Cancer Care.

The business in Old Harlow raised £730 at a coffee morning last Saturday.

Director Matt Dixon is completing a 320k trek in aid of the charity next month.

He will be taking part on the charity challenge in Spain, walking from Leon to Santiago and is hoping to raise £10,000.

The firm is also joining forces with Harlow Fire Station as part of its ongoing efforts to raise funds for Macmillan.

Together they will be holding a car wash day at Harlow Fire Station on Saturday, April 12.

"I was thinking I'd have to put blankets around us and run down the stairs but I don't think we would have made it. There was smoke and flames everywhere. I just don't know how to say thanks to her. She's such a hero in my eves.

Bethan, who works as a carer for Care At Hand, was helped by her colleague Chanelle Kotrofi. Bethan said: "Robyn was screaming 'my baby is with me, my baby is in here'. I said to her to throw the baby down and I would catch him. She was scared but I promised her I would catch him.

"She held him out of the window and let go. I caught him round his waist. It was just instinct, I didn't really think about it Bethan added: "He [the baby] was laughing, he thought it was hilarivehicle, stopped to rescue Robyn from the blaze. He left the scene shortly after and Robyn has no idea

"I wouldn't have jumped, I just don't think I could have done it," said Robyn. "It was the hardest day of my life but I'm so glad my little boy came to no harm, I couldn't imagine if things were different

"It's time to try and forget what happened even though it's going to be so hard. Every night I've been in tears, it's been hard moving to a new house. Some things we were able to save, but

The blaze gutted the house, leaving Robyn and Harley, her mother Raina Jeffery, stepfather Alan Durack, 49, brother Vince Crew, 25, and sisters Stephanie, 18, and Rebecca Jeffery, 16. homeless

The family returned to their home the following day to see if anything could be salvaged but the blaze had engulfed the whole property. "We were so lucky to escape," said Robyn. Harlow Council arranged tempo-rary accommodation at the Park Inn Hotel and now the family have been moved to a new home in Linford

Mr Durack said: "I was at work when I got a call and my daughter was just screaming the house is burning down."

He added: "Everybody has been so good, I cannot fault anyone. The support we have received has been unbelievable. Harlow Council and the Park Inn were amazing. I believe how amazing people have Bethan's mother Beverley said: "I'm incredibly proud of her. The whole family is so proud."

A joint police and fire service investigation is under way to establish the cause of the blaze

A Good Samaritan has set up a fundraising page to help the family replace the things they lost. To donate visit www.gofundme.com/ 6rlbrg.

Altering M11 traffic lights will not influence the debate

SIR, Like Phillip Waterfield (Letters, March 20), I too suspect meddling with the lights sequence at the A414/M11 interchange.
The improvements carried out had a really positive effect until the end of February when, for no apparent reason, some days saw traffic queuing beyond

Church Langley.

Ken Livingstone allegedly played such a trick with traffic lights in London to prove the need for extending the congestion charge zone.

Most people would agree that something needs to be done. The area is on a knife edge and a delay on the M25 several junctions either side of the M11 interchange sees Harlow grinding to a halt in minutes.

The discussion about what is to be done will not be swayed by highlighting the issue by artificial means.

Kevin Wright Priory Court, Harlow

Drivers are having to swerve to avoid craters in the roads

SIR, It would seem that Harlow has been holding a great scientific secret for many years.

We can all see the obvious footprint left by a meteorite that hit the Earth billions of years ago. The potholes by the traffic lights at Bush Fair must be the signature that remains of that meteorite strike

This might be the reason why the council has not done anything about them and maybe even afforded them listed status. listed status!

In all seriousness, these potholes on both sides of the road are vast and deep. They cause traffic to weave all over both carriageways.
The council must be aware of the danger these pose as a half-hearted attempt was made to repair them several months ago but as usual the effort was not good enough.

The potholes are on a main bus route so surely the bus company has complained at some point.

I hope that it does not take a serious accident caused by the poor state of the road for something to be done.

Pavements are a nightmare for disability scooter users

SIR, For some time now I have read with interest the various editorial reports and numerous letters on the subject of the extremely bad condition of the roads and pavements in Harlow.

which has large pneumatic tyres and sprung suspension, is the fourth I have had in five years due to the fact that my previous ones were unable to cope with our pavements.

Even now it is very hazardous due to the high joint steps between the concrete slabs, huge cracks, water filling up the dips and the lack of dropped kerbs.

Another major hazard were the many branches obstructing both the pavements and the cycle paths.

It is now well past the time that the town's roads and footpaths should have been made good using the funds that are wasted on frivolous schemes that the district and county councils seem to prioritise these days.

Do something to enable me to go out occasionally without my scooter bouncing up, down and sideways and dodging the various obstructions that I encounter. The citizens of our town pay enough in council tax.

Safety of pedestrians at risk as we return to the dark ages

SIR, When we moved to Harlow 57 years ago all the street lights were turned off at midnight.

By law, any vehicle parked on a road had to display at night a battery powered light or a paraffin lamp attached to the bumper. there were vey few vehicles back then.

Now our roads are heavily congested and negotiating them is extremely difficult in daylight, let alone in a blackout

I can see a rise in insurance claims for collision damage. Spare a thought for pedestrians, who will need to carry torches to see where they are going on our poorly maintained pavements and are likely to suffer injury.

There is also the risk posed by commercial vehicles parking on the pavements. Most of them have large wing mirrors extending past the body of the vehicle at head height for pedestrians.

The argument is that turning off the street lights will save Essex County Council money, but what about the cost to pedestrians?

Jo West East Park, Harlow

School lights are left blazing while streets are in blackout

SIR, Essex County Council is implementing ways of saving money by turning off our street lights and axing lollipop patrols, yet it is still prepared to to pay for electricity to light up its buildings at night.

I live near a junior school and at night, whilst we are plunged into darkness it is lit up like Christmas.

The path is lit, as is the school building and the flashing beacons. So I have to ask, does this mean the council considers its property more important than the safety of residents?

All we get for higher garage rent is the odd coat of paint

SIR, I read a letter in the Star complaining that garage rents were going up.

It is true nothing gets done apart from a coat of paint now and again.

I have had my garage since 1961. They have taken the water taps away but the rent still goes up.

In February I reported that my garage was flooded but still no-one has been.

Several schools shut as teachers walk out forced to close yesterday (Wednes-day) when members of the National Union of Teachers took part in a national strike.

Staff staged a walkout in a row over Government changes to contracts, including the introduction of performance-related pay, the increase in workload and cuts to pensions.

NUT members also protested against the impact of Education Secretary Michael Gove's policies on the wider eduction system, which the union described as "exhausting and demoralising" for teachers and disrupting children's education.
William Martin Infant & Junior

School, Henry Moore Primary, Little Parndon Primary, Latton Green Primary, Longwood Primary and Churchgate Primary School were all closed while others were unable to run all classes, forcing parents to make alternative arrangements.

Wednesday's day of action was the NUT's third national strike.

The other big teaching union, the NASUWT which walked out alongside the NUT in the two previous national strikes, decided against participating in yesterday's walk out.

Murray Sackwild, seceratary for the Harlow & Epping Forest branch of the NUT, said: "We are delighted with the response to the union's call to strike. The majority of our 1000 teachers in the Harlow & Epping Forest Association took action.

"While we know that the disruption a strike can have makes life a little support that we have received from parents, students and residents.

"People realise that teachers are campaigning against a lot of the negative changes in education that impact on students as well as them-

He added: "Students don't want burnt out 68-year-old teachers or teachers who are too exhausted to produce entertaining lessons due to excessive workload. Mostly students want to be treated like people rather than statistics on data related targets necessitated by performance related

Police 'reviewing' Barn Mead blaze investigation

DETECTIVES investigating the fatal fire in Harlow which killed six members of the same family are to review the case.

Dr Sabah Usmani and her five children - sons Sohailb, 11, Muneeb, 9, Rayyan, 6, and daughters Hira, 12, and Maheen, 3 - died in the fire in October 2012.

The only survivor was Dr Usmani's husband Dr Adbul Shakoor, father of the five youngsters who perished.

Two people arrested on suspicion of murder in connection with the blaze have been told they are to face no further action.

Detective Superintedent Rob Detective Superintegent Rod Vinson, who headed up the investi-gation, said last week: "We are still following up various investigative leads as well as reviewing the inves-tigation to identify further lines of enquiry.

"This is still an active investigation and we would still urge people to come forward.

It is believed the fire started in the lounge area of the end-of-terrace house in Barn Mead.

Police officers have taken hundreds of statements and collected thousands of documents and exhibits as part of the investigation.

Villagers vent anger at housing 'betrayal'

CAMPAIGNERS fighting plans to build thousands of homes on countryside to the north of Harlow have accused councillors in neighbouring East Herts of "betraying the community".

People living in Sawbridgeworth and the villages of Eastwick, Gilston and High Wych packed into Hunsdon Village Hall for a meeting to discuss the development now known as Gilston Park.

East Herts Council included the scheme, which is being promoted by Places for People, in its draft district plan despite a decade of opposition by the supporters of the Stop Harlow North pressure group. The land north of Harlow is back on the drawing board because the council needs to find locations for 15,000 properties by 2031 and estimates indicate not enough can be built in Bishop's Stortford and the surrounding villages. The apparent U-turn, reversing the argument that development in the area would be unsustainable, prompted questions about infrastructure, roads, rail, hospitals, housing numbers, flooding and sustainability.

Nigel Clark, of Stop Harlow North, challenged Cllr Mike Carver, East Herts Council's executive member for strategic planning and transport SINEAD HOLLAND and principal architect of the blueprint, to explain why it had "suddenly abandoned its long held and widely documented opposition to development north of Harlow" Cllr Carver was accused of betraying the community and asked why the council could put forward proposals in light of the Conservative group's 2011 election promise in which they said they would not allow "unsustainable and unwanted" development unwanted" development north of Harlow to happen.

SHN closed the meeting by urging people to respond to the public consultation and to support an alternative that could provide the district with a major new national park -Gilston Great Park

Mr Clark said: "The turnout was brilliant and shows local people are passionate about protecting the countrysides. "The community is very, very angry that, after years of arguing alongside our cam-paign that development north of Harlow in the Gilston areawould be unsustainable, East Herts Council has apparently changed its tune. They risk being ridiculed at the public examination that will follow in due course."

He then helped Sancha take Terri-May home before she was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

"There is an enclosed children's area by my home and no dogs are allowed there," said Ms Silvester. "A group of children turned up with a dog and tied it up inside the park.
"I heard my little girl shout to them that I could help them on the swings so I went over to push Terri-May. The dog came loose and came flying towards us. It got hold of my daughter's back and coat."

Ms Silvester added: "I was trying to get it off and screaming. I have never been so scared in my life. I was pulling for what seemed like forever.

Pair who foraged for mushrooms broke 136-year-old bylaw

A FATHER and daughter from Harlow have been fined for picking wild mushrooms in Epping Forest without permission.

The pair were prosecuted for breaking an 1878 bylaw which imposes a ban on the harvesting of wild fungi from the forest without the consent of the woodland's conservators, the City of London.

Polish-born Josef Markiewicz, of Tanys Dell, and his daughter Iwona Markiewicz, of the same address, pleaded guilty by letter to picking mushrooms on October 5 last year. In their letter they stated: "We do it every year in Poland and a lot of Polish people do it, even in this country

He added that they were sorry they had broken a law that was 150 years old but added: "It's hard to believe that an act of 1878 has not been updated when top chefs advertise that we should live off the land and eat

Magistrates heard that the couple were found with a full bucket and wicker basket of mushrooms. They were each fined £80 and ordered to pay £260 costs. The maximum fine is Forest ranger Nick Baker told Chelmsford Magistrates Court the 6,000-acre woodland is wholly owned by the City of London and protected by a bylaw "to conserve the forest for by a bylaw to conserve the lorest for the people".

Mr Baker added: "We put them back into the forest to keep the spores within the forest. Sometimes we get accused of eating them ourselves

Craig plans to run Paris marathon in memory of cousin

A CHARITY fundraiser is planning to mark the 10th anniversary of his cousin's death from cancer by taking part in the death from cancer by taking part in the Paris Marathon.

Craig Clarke, pictured right, will be running the 26.2 mile race through the French capital on April 6 in memory of Darren Clarke, who passed away in September 2004 at the age of 14.

Craig, 23, of Moorfields, Harlow, will be religious more for the Tennan Cancer.

raising money for the Teenage Cancer Trust and is hoping that a raffle of a signed Tottenham shirt will see him smash his fundraising target.
"I was about 11 or 12 when Darren was rist diagnosed and 14 when he passed away," he said. "Although I knew what was going on I did not really appreciate what he must have been going through, and how tough it must have been for him.

Craig, who also completed the Silverstone half marathon as preparation, added: "It really hit me how strong Darren must have been to deal with everything at such a young age. "It must have been so hard to see all your friends out doing teenage things and having fun while you have to go to the hospital to get treated for cancer.

"It's inspired me to do the marathon on the 10th anniversary of his passing and I'm motivated to continue to raise money for the charity on his behalf."

Craig will be raffling the shirt, which has been signed by the whole first team squad, and donating all the proceeds to the Teenage Cancer Trust. The winner will be picked in a draw at Harlow Town Football Club on April 21 during half-

He said: "I'm hoping the shirt will really boost how much money I raise.
"It would be incredible to raise £1,500. It is an amazing charity whose primary aim is to ensure that teenagers suffering with cancer do not have to lose out on those wonderful years as a teenager.'

Sign up for Rotary water tower abseil

THE Harlow Tye Rotary Club will be holding its annual charity abseil in May.

Each year, the group organise the popular event which raises thousands for several local and national charities. Around 220 thrill-seeking fundraisers take part each year and abseil down the 110ft Harlow Affinity Water Tower.

Participants, who need to pay £30 to take part, can raise money for the Harlow Tye Rotary Club, which supports a number of worthy causes, or any other charity of their choosing.
The group have raised

£705,000 over the last 15 vears and this year's event will be held on Saturday, May 3 and Sunday, May 4.

Anyone aged over 16 can take part. To find out more, call (01279) 734211, (01279) 731312 or visit www.harlowtyerotary.org.uk.

Charity race night raises over £800

A CANCER survivor and veteran fundraiser has had his most successful charity race night to date - raising £865 for four worthy causes. George Mole, 77, of Longfields, Harlow held the event - something he has done for more than eight year - at Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club to raise funds for Prostate Cancer Research, Bowel Cancer Research, St Clare Hospice and Children with Cancer.

"It was brilliant," said Mr Mole. "We managed to raise £865 which has been divided equally by all four charities. I'm over the moon, it's a great

"It is one of the highest totals I think we've had. We had a raffle as well, and a lot of local shops donated to that.

"Mastersons also helped greatly by sponsoring the race night, so I'm very grateful to them as well."

High Sheriff gives awards to groups

BATTS Table Tennis Club in Harlow received a cash boost when it was among the attendees at this year's High Sheriff's Awards ceremony.

The club was awarded £500 as part of the High Sheriff's Fund to help purchase an outdoor table tennis table to be used at a community-run recreation centre in the town.

The High Sheriff of Essex, Julia Abel Smith, paid tribute to the work of more than 40 voluntary and community organisations across the county.

Home-Start Harlow was also nominated by Claire Strudwick on the evening for it support for volunteers.

Lottery winners

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, March 21 was ticket holder 113443, who lives in North

The second prize of £100 was won by ticket holder 210780. who lives in Harlow.

Disco time for Downs support group

A SUPPORT group for children with Downs Syndrome and their families will be holding the second of its monthly discos with the help of two

Harlow-based companies. Upwards With Downs will be hosting the family event tomorrow (Friday) at The Link, in Parsloe Road, Harlow

Following the success of the first disco last month, the group is now sponsored by McDonald's at Staple Tye, which will be supplying refreshments and balloons. Platinum ecurity, which has supported the group since it began, has also funded the group's stationery, disco equipment, T-shirts and banners.

Group co-founders Cristina Griffiths and Tara Bowers - pictured above with their daughters Ruby, 5, and Franseca, 2 and Audrey Soyam are hoping the monthly discos will continue to grow in popularity. Tara said: "Everyone is welcome; it is as much about the families as it is the children and adults with Downs Syndrome.

"We had around 94

people at the last disco and people brought along their carers, brothers and sisters and their parents and grandparents. It was really good.

sponsorship from Platinum Security and now help from McDonalds, we're hoping it will get even bigger."

For more information about the disco or to purchase tickets, which cost £1. visit www upwardswithdowns.com or email upwardswithdowns@ hotmail.com.

Council given the go-ahead to start building houses...

MILLION-pound plans for the construction of the first council homes in Harlow for almost 25 years have been given the goahead.

Some 18 two-bedroom homes will be built on disused or underused garage sites in Felmongers, The Hill and Feasants Croft.

The plans, which were met with anger by residents, were approved by the authority's planning committee.

Councillor Jean Clark (Labour) said: "It's always difficult and we're going to be confronted with this over and over again, but it's housing this town desperately needs."

A former garage site in Felmongers will make way for four two-bed-room homes.

The site, pictured, is accessed from Momples Road and has become overgrown.

Architect Mark Cotton, agent for Harlow Council, told Wednesday's meeting: "It's good use of previously developed land for muchGEMMA GARDNER needed affordable housing."

Almost 40 letters of objection were sent to the council by residents who were concerned about a loss of privacy and being overlooked.

In Feasants Croft, the authority approved plans to demolish 45 garages and replace them with seven two-bedroom homes along with two parking spaces per property

The council will also create 13 parking spaces on the site, which is in the Conservation Area, for public use.

An application for seven new properties on a garage site at The Hill in Old Harlow was also approved despite concerns about access.

The £1.8m programme will be funded with money ringfenced for affordable housing.

Councillor Paul Schroder

(Labour), cabinet portfolio holder for regeneration, said: "This is a key moment for the council and the town. It has been almost 25 years since the last council house was built in Harlow.

"This programme will provide new high quality homes for local families on our Housing Needs register and also regenerate disused or underused garage sites.

"This is only the beginning of what we want to achieve from building new council houses."

...but not everyone is happy at the planners' decision

AGENDAS were hurled in anger by protestors after approval was given for the first wave of new council housing in Harlow.

Residents accused the council of failing to listen to their concerns about the proposals for 18 new council homes on three garage sites in Felmongers, Feasants Croft and The Hill.

Robert Leishman, who has lived in Feasants Croft for 35 years, said: "We are totally opposed to the proposed development. Consideration of the long term health of people is needed."

term health of people is needed."
Another resident added: "The council is not considering the life of residents but they are just ticking the box of having seven houses."

Dr Peter Hawkes, who lives in Felmongers, said he was concerned about "arrogant youths" and the noise of barking dogs and motorbike engines that could come from the site, adding: "I do not believe that proper consideration has been given to my amonties."

His legal representative added: "The development is premature. The development is neither aspirational or inspirational."

Scout hut rises from the ashes

GEMMA GARDNER

A HUGE steel skeleton has risen from the ashes of the former 7th Harlow Scout hut in Manor Hatch Close.
The frame, which was built by Cobra Steel

Services Ltd, will house the main hall of the troupe's new building.

More than two years ago arsonists started a blaze at the group's former building which left the troop of more than 60 youngsters aged six to 14 without a permanent meeting place.

On Saturday the group welcomed Mark Cotton and Michael Cochrane from Architect and Design Service at Parndon Mill Studios.

By drawing up the plans for the new hut free-of-charge, Mark and Michael have saved the group £5,000

Former Scout Mark praised the community project "which benefits both young people and the local commu-

A spokesman for the group said: "Great to see the prosant: Great to see the progress made down at the site this morning. Hope all our young people are ready for the adventure."

He added: "We hope that we will head to the adventure and the same the same will be able to use the replacement premises from the late summer (August/September) providing there are no hold-

Although the group will now be able to get the building watertight and secure, they still need £40,000 to complete the work.

Grants from Bernard Sunley Foundation and The Garfield Western Foundation totalling £35k have helped the cause.

Clint Price Managing director of Cobra Steel Services Ltd said: "I am proud to be part of this project and from the outset was looking to provide, a price and services which no one could match."

The group has many activities planned to raise funds

this year, including an abseil and the Three Peaks challenge in May.

TAKING SHAPE: Above, The framework for the new hut has arrived. Top, members of 7th Harlow Scout group with the drawings for the work

Other events include a race night, community day for the residents of Manor Hatch Close and in August a football match challenge against Harlow Police.

Denise Dalby of the group said: "You can support the 7th Harlow Scout Group by attending the events or making a donation to the Buy a Brick campaign.

"There will be a Buy a Brick event at the site in May.

£250,000 for maternity | Buildings to turn blue unit's new bathrooms

MORE than £250,000 has been given to Princess Alexandra Hospital for maternity care as part of a £1m improvement package

Some 63 trusts across the country have been given a share of £10m Government pot to improve maternity care for women and babies. The Harlow hospital will receive £266,075 for new bathrooms in the maternity unit.

Health minister Dr Dan Poulter said: "Since 2010 we have already seen huge improvements to maternity services right across the country.

'We have more midwives working in more midwife-led units, record numbers of midwives in training, more birthing pools, and more family rooms. More mums and babies are being helped to have the best start for autism awareness

SOME of the town's most well-known buildings will be turning blue to help Harlow charity PACT for Autism celebrate World Autism Awareness Day.

The Harlow Playhouse and the Harvey Centre will be lit up blue from Monday (March 31) for the week to celebrate the awareness day on Wednesday, April 2.

Burnt Mill Academy will also be fundraising for PACT for Autism and will be closing its blue blinds on April 2 as a nod to the day.

The charity will also be hosting an autism awareness talk on Tuesday, April 1 at 6pm at Passmores Academy

He was a real grafter: family's tribute to popular newsagent

THE funeral cortege of a popular Harlow newsagent, who has died at the age of 74, will be stopping briefly outside his old business as it makes its way to Parndon Wood Crematorium on Saturday.

Vishivball Sood - who was known to family, friends and customers as Sid - passed away on Sunday, March 16 at the Royal Free Hospital in London.

Mr Sood was the owner of the Ward Hatch newsagents which he ran for more than 12 years.

When he and his wife Urmil known as Millie - sold the business in 1997 they thanked their loyal customers by serving up Indian delicacies. The story was featured

Mr Sood's youngest son Aman, 34, said: "He was really hard-working. When I think of the word grafter I think of him. He was up at 4.45am every day and at the store for 5.30 to open at 6am. A lie-in for him would be sleeping in until 5.30am.

"He had a really big work ethic and was a really friendly, warm affectionate person.

"He came to England with no money, not speaking the language and had no friends. He has left having a good business, a nice house. a close family and lots of friends. It's amazing."

He said his father had encouraged his children to work hard for what they wanted.

"He was a brilliant man," said Aman. "I worked in the shop along-side him from when I was quite young and I learned everything from him and my mum.

"Once I wanted an electric drum kit from Argos and I asked him for one; I must have been about 14. He told me I could have it but I had to work during the Easter holidays and I said okay.

"I worked really hard the first week of Easter, starting at 7am and helping the paperboys and doing as much as I could. By the end of the week he had brought me the drum kit. I said 'thank you, but I've only worked one week'. He then told me he was always going to buy it for me, but he wanted me to see what it felt like to really work for something.

"That lesson stuck with me. He was the hardest-working man I know and he had a really good relationship with all his customers

Mr Sood leaves his wife of 48 years, children Navin, 44, Vandna, 46, and Aman and six grandchildren. The funeral cortege will stop briefly at Ward Hatch Newsagents on its way to the crematorium for the service at 10.30am.

The family have requested any donations in his memory to be forwarded to the UK Diabetes ANIMAL lovers will not want to miss Essex Book Festival's Harlow event with Bonzo's War authors Clare and Christy Campbell.

Bonzo's War retells the little known stories of the nation's animals during the Second World War, including the Government's campaign against pets and the individuals who helped to protect them.

The pair will be at Great Parndon Library,

Staple Tye to promote the book.
"In my own family we had a Fox Terrier that belonged to my aunt, he was called Paddy," Clare said. "When I asked what had happened to Paddy, my aunt told me it was the war and he had to be put down.

"My uncle was a very practical man and when Christy and I looked into things we realised that there were an awful lot of people that did the same thing." Clare and Christy Campbell will be at Great

AT A TIME WHEN ONLY THE VERY BEST SERVICE AND CARE WILL DO

Follow us on Twitter @Harlowstar

By Sergeant Rob Cox Harlow Neighbourhood Policing Team

ET'S start with some great news Labout house burglaries. Fewer than a third of these horrible crimes have happened this month than in January.

As I mentioned in my last piece, seven local youths were arrested at the end of January and this appears to have had a dramatic effect on the town's burglary rate.

However, we aren't complacent about these results and all the police teams continue to work together to prevent and detect these crimes.

YOU may have read the story on the front page of the Star a couple of weeks ago about a number of drugs raids and arrests across the town.

This was the culmination of almost a year of work. We are still working on this issue so if you suspect drug dealing is happening in your area please call us or speak anonymously to Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

THERE is a worrying scam that is happening all over the country. Please be aware of it and make sure elderly relatives and neighbours in particular are also aware of it. This is what happens: a fraudster phones up pretending to be from the police or your bank to inform you something suspicious has happened with your bank account. They may reassure you that they are genuine and give you a phone number to call back. However, they stay on their end of the line, meaning you are actually still connected to the original caller.

They then convince you to reveal your personal bank details and PIN number or even set up a money transfer. It has even been known for them to send a courier round to pick up the victim's bank card. They then spend all the money in the account.

Please do not be fooled. You will never be asked for your PIN or bank card by a police officer or your bank, so do not reveal them to

OUR Neighbourhood Policing Teams are investigating recent anti-social behaviour by youths in Bush Fair and Staple Tye. It is not acceptable for businesses such as takeaway food outlets and their customers to be pestered and harassed.

Some youngsters causing problems at Bush Fair are now subject to police action and many others have been taken home to parents. We are now looking at similar tactics at Staple Tye together with assistance from local schools.

If your children cause problems at Bush Fair or Staple Tye, be aware that you may be having a visit from

WE continue to link in with groups interested in the work of the police.
PCSOs Karen Rogers and Elaine Mager have given a group of students studying for their public services qualification a guided tour and insight into the workings of the police station. This included a look around the custody suite and the around the custody suite and the offer of having their fingerprints

Also, a group of Guides from St Andrew's Church are being shown around the station this week by PCSO Lee Phillips, who tells me the kids can't wait to try out the riot gear! It sounds like a good opportunity for some fun.

WE have a very experienced officer based at Princess Alexandra Hospital - PCSO Elaine Mager - so if you are there and have an enquiry regarding crime or a neighbourhood issue please contact her via the PAH security

DON'T forget to check our website - www.essexpolice.uk - and navigate to the Harlow section for local meetings and events.

POLICE are looking to identify a man caught on CCTV who is suspected of stealing cash from the home of an elderly woman.

The man tricked his way into the 80-year-old victim's home in Westfield, Harlow, after telling her he was working on a neighbour's trees. He asked if he could look at the trees and was invited through the house and into the garden.

The suspect said he could prune the trees for £20 but said he would have to collect some tools. It is thought that as he returned through the house he took £50 in cash and a bank book

The incident happened on Monday, February 17 at about 11am.

Anyone with information about the man's identity is urged to contact Detective Constable Gav Morris at Harlow CID on 101.

HARLOW'S crumbling roads are suffering from more potholes than ever before - and we want your help highlighting the Scores of new potholes have been created in Harlow as a result of the winter storms this year.

This week the Government announced that Essex County Council would receive £2.7m to carry out repairs to the worst

In Harlow, a local photographer is calling for action to have the worst of the town's potholes filled in.

He said: "It's not about making Harlow look bad, it's about making it look great. Latest figures show the number of highway defects in Essex in the three months to the end of December was 15,939, up 16.3 per cent from 13,705 in the quarter to the end of September.

to the end of September.

Essex County Council divides its highways network into three categories:

• county route (priority 1) – strategic

- county route (priority 1) strategic roads with the highest volumes of traffic;
- · county route (Priority 2) roads which provide an essential traffic management function between the Priority 1 network and local roads;
- local roads all other roads maintained by the authority.

The local roads network fared worst, according to the data. On the 3,230 miles for which the county is responsible the number of faults increased from 8,119 to 10,397 in the last three months of 2013. Defects on Harlow's 125 miles of road rose from 573 to 610.

The number of faults on Essex's 588 miles of Priority 1 roads rose from 1,554 to 1,796, while on Priority 2 roads the total dropped from 4,032 to 3,746.

The average cost of filling a pothole in the UK is £58 while the total cost of fixing the country's potholes is estimated at more than £114m.

On average the number of claims per authority for compensation for damage to a person or vehicle as a result of the poor road condition tops more than 300. In total the Department for Transport has made £183.5m available to local highway authorities in England.

Rodney Bass, Essex County Council's cabinet member for highways, said: "We welcome the £2.7m that the DfT will be giving us in additional funding to fix potholes on Essex's roads, having made a great effort as a council to finance road repairs.

"This money is further to the additional revenue of £4.8m that Essex has already pledged for highways repairs

Birthdays are piece of cake for Rosie as she celebrates her 102nd

BIANCA CASTRO

IN the same year Rosie Johnson was born, Captain Scott reached the South Pole, the Titanic hit an iceberg on its maiden voyage and sunk and Woodrow Wilson won the US presidential election.

The year was 1912. Yesterday (Wednesday), Rosie celebrated her 102nd birthday with daughters Avril Brown and Denise Johnson at Alexandra House care home in Hamstel Road, Harlow, where she now lives.

Rosie, who moved to Harlow in 1976 with her husband Henry, also has three granddaughters and five greatgrandchildren. Sadly, Henry died in the 1990s.

She was born in Hackney, London where she worked as a machinist and made dresses as well as men's shirts before moving to Harlow New Town. Daughter Avril said: "My mother was a machinist and she made lots of different types of clothes. She didn't work when we moved to Harlow. I guess she didn't need to as my father was a printer; he worked for the Daily

"She loved gardening and loved spending time in her garden. She also knitted a lot and knitted for her grandchildren.

"I have three daughters and she used to make them dresses and things to wear.

Denise added: "She is just as a mother should be. I remember our family holidays very fondly, we used to go to lots of different places each year and that was always nice."

A member of staff at Alexandra House said: "We all wished Rosie a very happy birthday yesterday. Her family arrived in the afternoon and we had a lovely 102nd birthday cake to celebrate to celebrate.

"Rosie has a lovely smile and is a much-loved resident at Alexandra House. We're all very glad we could have been a part of such a special milestone as her 102nd birthday.

Hospice counts the cost of van theft

THE van stolen from St Clare Hospice last month and recovered a few hours later was back in service this week after being off the road for a month.

The vehicle, which is used for delivery and collection services for the hospice's seven shops, was taken from the car park at Hastingwood.

Police found the vehicle within 12 hours of it being reported missing, but the hospice estimates it has lost more than £1,600 in income while the vehicle, which was damaged, underwent repairs.

Retail sales manager Fiona Eaton said: "Although we were able to hire a replacement vehicle while the van was being repaired, the rental was not covered by our insurance so that alone has cost £900.

"We also had goods in the back which were rifled through and have had to be written off so that's an additional £350 in lost stock. When you add on £250 to have new keys cut and a £150 excess fee, we are facing quite a hefty bill.

She added: "We were devastated that thieves would target the hospice. They clearly have no idea of the consequences of their actions and the bill we are now facing; all funds which could be spent on caring for our patients and their loved

Councillor's call for town to break from County Hall

A HARLOW councillor has suggested the authority start "divorce proceedings" against Essex County Council over cuts to school crossing patrols.

Speaking at a meeting of Harlow Council on Thursday, cabinet member Tony Durcan (Labour) hit out at County Hall plans to remove lollipop patrols from schools with zebra or pelican crossings. Cllr Durcan, who also slammed the county's consultation processes, said: "Harlow has already lost two patrol crossings at Little Parndon and Pear Tree

"A saving of £147,000 only indicates that the Tories in this council know the cost of everything but the value of nothing when it comes to children and safety.

"Perhaps we should follow Scotland and actually commence divorce proceedings from our friends at Essex County Council." Cllr Andrew Johnson, leader of Harlow Conservatives, took to social media to respond: "You want the socialist republic of Harlow? Come off it Tony, we have been

Lynn takes a bow after 30 years service

A HARLOW Council employee who has dedicated 30 years to serving the community is retiring.Lynn Seward, the authority's head of community wellbeing, will step down from her post next week.

Ms Seward, who turned 60 last month, started at the council as a part-time school holiday playscheme leader before managing the Kingsmoor House Family Centre and going on to become a community and leisure manager.

"It has been a privilege to serve the town I live in and to have worked with so many talented teams and colleagues," she said this week.

This extends to the many organisations and community groups the council works with who do an outstanding job for Harlow.'

health, community safety, Harlow Playhouse, Pets' Corner, paddling pools and leisure services including Harlow skatepark, Contact Harlow, communications, youth and citizen-ship and the Discretionary Services Partnership (Parndon Wood Nature Reserve, Museum, Town Park events and Gibberd Gallery).

Council leader Mark Wilkinson said: "We are very sad to see Lynn go. She has provided many years public ser-vice to Harlow and for the last 10 years she has been responsible for overseeing the delivery of the town's popular community services.

"She has played an important role in improving the town."
Chief executive Malcolm Morley

said: "Lynn has made a major contribution to the council's improvement

FRIDAY Slumber Girls will be headlining tonight. The alternative three-piece from Hertfordshire will be supported on the night by Secret Company and Korda Marshall. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £6 or £5 for members.

SATURDAY Formed in Edinburgh in 1976, The Rezillos quickly made an impact on the UK music scene at the beginning of the punk/new wave movement.
The band achieved chart success two years later with their biggest hit, Top of the Pops, while their debut studio album, Can't Stand The Rezillos, released in July 1978 is still considered a classic of the first wave of British punk. Supporting The Rezillos will be Los Pepes. Tickets cost £15 in advance (£1.50 s/c).

>>British band Delays made their name in 2004, when they released their debut album Faded Seaside Glamour on Rough Trade Records. It was a top 20 album, and became one of the most critically acclaimed of that year. Their second album You See Colours (2006) entered the charts at number 24, sealing the bands notoriety as one of the most important new guitar bands in Britain. In 2008 they released Everything's The Rush through Fiction Records. The making of this record changed the way they felt about music and became the reason they parted with Fiction Records to write their fourth album. Delays will bring their Faded Seaside Glamour 10th anniversary tour on May 17. Tickets cost £10 in advance

Players well suited to Wilde's costume drama

IN this era of reality TV and gritty drama, choosing to stage Oscar Wilde's "trivial comedy for serious people" could be regarded as a step back too far.

But in the highly capable hands of director/adapter Henrietta Branwell the gamble paid off as the audience quickly warmed to the Victorian style of speech and manners.

The play is acknowledged as Wilde's most famous and popular work, no doubt due to its preposterously silly but highly engaging plot. Friends Algernon Moncrieff and Jack Worthing are desperate to marry young society ladies but the two girls – Cicely Cardew and Gwendolen Fairfax - are under the impression that both young men are named Ernest.

For various involved and far-fetched reasons the two pals pretend to be brothers and misunderstanding piles on misunderstanding as they struggle to retain the affections of the young women.

review

The Importance of Being Earnest Moot House Players Moot Hall, The Stow, Harlow

When it's revealed that Jack is actually Algernon's long-lost brother named Ernest, Wilde's genius as a dramatist is fully demonstrated as the multi-layered story comes together with a satisfying conclusion. The very attractive set, courtesy of Paul Regali and Maggie Beenson, and beautiful costumes designed and made by Mrs Branwell, ensured the Victorian backdrop was securely in place.

But the mostly young cast should be congratulated for their skills in depicting the manners and mores of the time. Dan Powell made the stage his own as the strutting and pompous Jack while Players' newcomer Harry Tennison was suitably louche as cad-about-town

As Gwendolen and Cicely, Claire Quley and Kerry Rowland gave delightfully nuanced performances. Their attitude to one another, moving from the sweetest of friends to ice-cold civility as they begin to believe they are both engaged to the same man, was utterly compelling.

Presiding over the two fledgling romances is the terrifyingly imposing Lady Bracknell, Gwendolen's mother and aunt to Algernon. In an inspired piece of casting, the role was taken by a man! But rather than adopt a comedic approach, James Miller downplayed the characterisation and the gender-swap was never the obvious factor in his steady performance.

This was MHP's' first venture into costume drama for many years and they should be congratulated for such a welcome and highly entertaining change of direction.

Go and grow eco

IF your planting is attracting bees, butterflies and other wildlife, your shed is devoid of pesticides and your fruit and veg are strictly organic then you are already heading along the right road to eco-friendliness.

But follow these 10 simple tips and you could get even further, even faster.

Plant bright flowers such as candytuft, sunflowers and marigolds, to encourage beneficial insects like ladybirds and lacewings. These will eat aphids such as blackfly, which can decimate your flowers and crops. Bluebells, cowslips, foxgloves and primroses are all wildflowers to add colour and beauty to any garden. Buy flowers that will bloom as late into the autumn as possible, to allow more beneficial bugs and bees plenty of time to pollinate.

2 Invest in a water butt. Even better, blend it in with your garden scheme by building a wooden casing around it and painting it, suggests DIY power tool experts Dremel (www.dremel. co.uk). Alternatively, buy an old wine barrel as an attractive alternative and customise it so you can fill a watering can. Wooden water butts need to stand above ground level, allowing the wood to breathe from beneath.

Create your own makeshift mulch. If you have collected leaves to make leaf mould over the years, this will act as a great mulch in spring. Alternatively, use compost, bark or garden clippings which have been shredded.

Consider 'companion planting' to ward off predators. Many plant combinations mask each other with scent. The smell of Tagetes (French marigolds) will deter whitefly, while garlic and other alliums have been used as companions to keep pests at bay. Trailing nasturtiums repel woolly aphids, while bugle extract repels cabbage white caterpillars. In a similar way, leeks repel carrot flies, okra shields peppers from wind, while tall crops provide a canopy for short ones, such as lettuce and spinach, which prefer partial shade in the heat

Recycle everyday packaging Recycle everyday packaging to use in your garden. Plastic cartons which have held pre-packed veg can be adapted as seed trays, yoghurt pots which have been thoroughly cleaned can be used to raise seedlings and larger plastic bottles with the bottoms cut off can work as makeshift cloches around young vulnerable plants. Large wooden crates can be used to store fruit and veg later on in the season.

6Set up a worm compost bin if you only have a small space, and make a home for some small, red tiger worms, which you can buy. Use a wooden box with holes and a lid for a worm compost bin., add a layer of moist, shredded newspaper and soil for their bedding, then feed them once a week with vegetable peelings wrapped in newspaper or paper towels. Every two or three months, the rich, fine compost will be ready to use.

Use solar power to light the path to your front door. Solar lights fixed into the ground store energy at low cost in the daytime and light the way to your front door in the dark. Cut niches into your paving stones by using a compact saw or plant them either side of your path in the garden borders.

Make a compost bin if you don't already have one. To make a simple wooden compost bin simply cut wooden slats to size and screw them together at right angles. Sand down any sharp edges or splintered wood, then prepare your compost by layering grass cuttings, leaves and natural waste from your kitchen (such as paper, cardboard and vegetable peelings) and turn regularly. Once the waste has rotted, it should be an ideal supply to mix with your garden top soil.

Charge battery-powered equipment the smart way. If your garden tools are batterypowered, bear in mind that the prices charged for electricity may vary at different times of the day and night. Once you have the details you can start saving money by charging batteries during off-peak hours. Additionally, lithium-ion batteries retain their charge even if they haven't been used for some 10 Minimise your non-permeable hard landscaping, such as pavers set in concrete. Create boundaries with hedging rather than fencing if you can.

Action-packed return of the comic book Captain

CAPTAIN AMERICA: THE WINTER SOLDIER certificate 12A, 2h16m

PAST and present collide in this action-packed sequel to the 2011 blockbuster which continues to expand the sprawling Marvel Comics universe. Addressing timely concerns about unrest in the Middle East and the corruptibility of the political establishment, Captain America: The Winter Soldier is a bombastic, big budget extravaganza that's every bit as entertaining as the opening chapter

A crunching car chase involving S.H.I.E.L.D. director Nick Fury (Samuel L Jackson) is edgeof-the-seat stuff and a climactic showdown involving the titular hero and diabolical Hydra lets loose the special effects wizards.

Set two years after The Avengers, it opens with Steve Rogers (Chris Evans) acclimatising to life in present day Washington D.C.

In his heroic guise as Captain America he leads a daring rescue mission at sea, flanked by sexy spy Natasha Romanoff (Scarlett Johansson) and S.H.I.E.L.D.'s counter-terrorism unit.

Soon after, Fury escorts Rogers into the bowels of the agency's headquarters which houses three state-of-the-art helicarriers. These aerial warships, codenamed Project Insight, will extinguish threats to global peace from the skies, killing terrorists before they have a chance to

"I thought the punishment usually came after the crime," observes Rogers. "We can't afford to wait that long," retorts Fury, whose concerns are echoed by Alexander Pierce (Robert Redford), a senior member of S.H.I.E.L.D. and the World Security Council.

"To build a better world, sometimes you've got to tear the old one down," he warns Rogers, who seems to be the only person concerned about the moral implications of playing judge, jury and executioner with the push of a button.

Captain America: The Winter Soldier is cut from the same tried and tested cloth as the first instalment. Evans and Johansson enjoy verbal jousting in between their fight sequences while Anthony Mackie proves a likeable addition to the team as winged warrior Falcon.

There's an inescapable feeling throughout that this is an appetiser to the main course of a third film in 2016 and, sure enough, the movie ends on a cliffhanger.

True fan boys and girls should stay in their seats for the obligatory extra scene during the end credits that hints at the mayhem to come in next year's The Avengers: Age Of Ultron

MUPPETS MOST WANTED certificate U, 1h53m

CREATED almost 60 years ago by Jim Henson, Kermit the Frog and his hand-operated chums gained a new lease of life in 2011 with the release of the seventh feature film.

Combining an irreverent script tongue-in-cheek cameos and uproarious song and dance numbers, it was a treat for fans of all ages. Muppets Most Wanted is the inevitable sequel and harnesses some of the same charm and zany energy. The ramshackle plot bounces along at breakneck speed, providing a hook for hare-brained set pieces replete with Celine Dion as Miss Piggy's fairy godmother.

The world's most deadly criminal Constantine (voiced by Steve Whitmire) - who bears an uncanny resemblance to Kermit (Whitmire again) except for a facial mole and strong eastern European accent escapes from Gulag 38B in Siberia Commander Nadya (Tina Fey) and her men give chase but mistakenly apprehend Kermit, believing him to be the amphibian mastermind. While Kermit languishes behind bars, Constantine poses as The Muppets' leader to orchestrate a series of daring robberies with the help of his second in command, Dominic Badguy (Ricky Gervais).

Miss Piggy (Eric Jacobson), Gonzo (Dave Goelz), Fozzie Bear (Jacobson again) and the gang don't notice that their beloved green ringmaster has been replaced by an imposter as they embark on a world tour that takes them from Berlin to Madrid, Dublin and London.

Thankfully, Kermit has a daring plan to escape and expose the diabolical doppelganger.

Muppets Most Wanted doesn't quite scale the dizzy comedic heights of the first film but the sequel is peppered with belly laughs and droll in-iokes.

Director James Bobin doesn't tarry on holes in the narrative or flimsy sub-plots like Miss Piggy's desire to make an honest frog out of Kermit, and hopes we'll do the same with grins on our faces.

The sequel is preceded by a delightful computer-animated short, Party Central, which revisits Monsters University favourites Mike (voiced by Billy Crystal) and Sulley (John Goodman) and the misfits from Oozma Kappa fraternity as they attempt to outwit the bully boys from Roar Omega Roar once

Location Parkway, Sawbridgeworth Category Semi-detached Additional Four bedrooms (master bedroom with en suite), kitchen with separate utility room, garage Guide price £375,000

Agent Charles David Casson Estates, 34c London Road, Sawbridgeworth. Telephone (01279) 600722 IDEAL for a growing family, this extended, semidetached home in Sawbridgeworth has four bedrooms.

Step through the front door and you are in the entrance hall with a window to the side and a door to the lounge. This room has a glazed window to the front aspect and stairs rising to the first floor. There is also a door to the second reception

There is also a door to the second reception room and a squared arch leading into the dining

The study/playroom has a window to the front and a door to the utility room. The dining room overlooks the rear aspect and has a door to the kitchen.

The kitchen features a range of matching wall and base units as well as fitted appliances including an oven, microwave, four-ring gas hob and fridge/freezer. The utility room has further wall and base units as well as space for a washing machine and tumble dryer. Leading off the utility room is a cloakroom.

The first floor landing offers access to the loft and a handy built-in cupboard. Doors lead off to the four bedrooms and the bathroom.

The master bedroom has an an en-suite shower room with walk-in shower and heated towel rail. Bedroom two overlooks the rear of the house while bedrooms three and four have windows to the front aspect.

The rear garden includes a decked area while the remainder is laid to lawn with flower and shrub borders. There is a single garage and a driveway with secure off-road parking.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

FRIENDS of ours moved house last week.

The move itself was as simple as these things can be. From offer to moving in, the process was quick, with no last-minute panics and the sale went smoothly.

But what they found the most irritating has been the extra associated costs that have added up to much more than they had anticipated.

It's easy when buying a home to overlook smaller costs in favour of the major expense – the house itself – but these 'little extras' can quickly add up.

For example, Stamp Duty can eat up a huge chunk of anyone's budget at one per cent for homes valued at cent for homes valued at between £125,000 and £250,000, three per cent for those between £250,000 and £500,000, four per cent between £500,000 to £1,000,000 and an eyewatering five per cent for properties costing between £1m and £2m.

Then there are your legal costs. You can expect to pay around £1,000 on average depending on the services you require for the

You will also need to budget for a survey of the property and for searches for anything unusual about the property. These tend to cost around £500 each but depend on the scope of the survey required.

Other costs can include valuation fees paid to a lender for checking the property is worth the amount they are lending and a booking fee for selecting a mortgage deal.

A larger cost could be a mortgage arrangement fee which can run into several thousand pounds. However, a lender may offer some or all of these charges for free depending on the mortgage deal you have agreed and so it is worth checking on the details and shopping

Finally, don't forget your removal company's bill. Depending on how much you have to move, the costs can vary greatly so again it's worth getting quotes.

On the market for £269,950

THIS semi-detached home at Silvesters in Harlow has solar panels as well as uPVC double glazed windows.

There are three bedrooms, a luxury bathroom, two reception rooms and a large conservatory. The kitchen is fitted with a range of white units with a builtin oven and hob.

The sunny, rear garden faces southwest and there is also a single garage. Centurion Property Services can provide full details on (01279) 417234.

With over 25 years of combined experience in selling and letting properties in Harlow, Church Langley, Old Harlow and Newhall, we have the expertise and knowledge to cater for any property transaction.

Both born and bred within Harlow, Co Directors James Reyland & Ben Johnson have been recognised & admired names within the local property industry since 2001 and have worked at some of the biggest agencies around the town.

As work colleagues and long term friends we felt the time was right for us to join forces and offer our clients traditional estate agency and lettings but with a modern, fresh approach.

Over the years we have realised that repeat business and recommendation is the key to a successful agency therefore our fees will be competitive and fair, our service will be outstanding but most of all our aim is to simply provide the highest level of customer care. In return, for what we feel is the most important factor of our business, a recommendation.

If you have any property related questions or would like to request a sales or lettings valuation, please contact our office on 01279 216216 to book your FREE appointment.

We look forward to moving you soon!

IAIN DOOLEY

T might have grown slightly but there's no mistaking the oversize headlights and signature grille. It can only be a Mini.

But that's all that is familiar about BMW's third-generation hatchback. Underneath the iconic shape lies an all new platform, engines and transmissions plus an increased focus on delivering an engaging yet refined driving experience.

And while the new car has grown

And while the new car has grown slightly in all dimensions - it's 98mm longer, 44mm wider and 28mm longer between the wheels - the basic proportions and design cues remain.

Inside the cabin the car's trademark oversize central speedometer has been repurposed to house the infotainment screen and the traditional key has been ditched in favour of a funky hacklit engine start toggle switch backlit engine start toggle switch.

BMW has blessed the car with technology more commonly found in 'grown-up' cars, such as a neat heads-up display, parking camera and a self park function, user selectable electronic damper

Fact File

Mini Cooper

ENGINE TRANSMISSION PERFORMANCE ECONOMY CO² RATING

PRICE from £15,300 on the road:

1.5-litre petrol unit developing 134bhp 6-speed manual driving front wheels Top speed 130mph, 0-62mph 7.9s 62.8mpg 105g/km modes, DAB radio, intelligent cruise control and traffic sign recognition.

The good news extends rewards, as rear seat passengers now have more room and the boot is a sensible size. It's still a bit of squeeze to get in the back but once installed it's noticeably more comfortable, while folding the rear seats further enhances the car's versatility.

Cooper and go-faster Cooper S models make up the range at launch, with the former utilising BMW's new 1.5-litre three-pot petrol motor and the latter a new 2.0-litre petrol unit. All engines are now turbocharged, and significant economy and performance gains have been made across the board.

In popular Cooper guise the car's new motor puts out a useful 134 horsepower enabling the zero to 62mph sprint in a brisk 7.9 seconds. Also, power comes in much lower down the rev range, saving you much stirring of the admittedly slick manual gear shift.

And the best news? You can have all this performance while enjoying an official combined economy figure of 62.8mpg and a tax-dodging 105g/km carbon emissions rating. It's the same cake-and-eat-it

It's the same cake-and-eat-it scenario out on the road. The Mini Cooper delivers an engaging driving experience, while at the same time maintaining a high level of comfort and refinement across a wide range of road conditions.

The car's electric power steering

The car's electric power steering gives nothing away in terms of feel and does much to contribute to the previous car's 'go kart-like' sensation that BMW is so keen to maintain, while engine response is right up there with dedicated sports cars. The three-pot turbo motor even sounds the part, emitting a gruff, purposeful note when you're pressing on.

when you're pressing on.
But it's the car's ride and grip levels that impress most. The combination will flatter less experienced drivers and do much to keep them safe if they inadvertently test the limits of their talents, yet the potential still exists for keen drivers to fully exploit the Mini's playful character.

And unlike it's predecessor, this third-gen Mini's ride boasts a more supple and mature character, resulting in a vastly more enjoyable experience when encountering poorly surfaced urban streets. The end result is a fluid ride and enjoyable, confidence-inspiring time behind the wheel.

The important thing to take away from this all-new Mini experience is that, while the car has grown slightly in size, is more refined and comes with all the toys you'd expect to find in more grown-up cars, BMW has ensured that the fun factor remains right at the heart of the driving and ownership experience.

Scrap Ca

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD) A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website.

Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Acute Medical Nurses Band 6 Acute Medical Nurse Team Leaders Band 7 (3 Posts)

ORLA Healthcare seek experienced nurses from acute, primary care or community backgrounds to join us in an exciting new initiative.

The posts are based both in the community and at Princess Alexandra Hospital's Emergency Department. The roles involve identifying those patients whose acute condition could be more appropriately managed at home rather than in hospital and then providing the subsequent care within the patient's home

The post holders will be capable of working as part of a dedicated multidisciplinary team to deliver exceptional standards of care to patients and their families. The successful candidates must be NMC registered, have consolidated post registration experience and ideally have recent experience of cannulation, venepuncture & IV therapies. Excellent communication and organisational skills are essential and a nurse prescribing qualification would be desirable.

Our service will operate a 3 shift system that covers evenings, weekends, nights and on-call rotas. The post holders also need to be computer literate, car drivers and hold a full UK driving licence.

 $If interested, please contact {\bf patriciarees@orlahealthcare.com} \ for a job \ description, application form or further information.$

Canaan very able at championships

FOUR Harlow students were selected to represent Essex at this year's English Schools Championships.

In the inter boys' race Mark Hall student Canaan Solomon (15) ran a good race to place 21st over 5,300m in 20 minutes 3 seconds and was the first Essex runner.
In the junior boys' race over 4,000m, Stewards Acadamy pupil Lewis Harknett, at his first English Schools event, placed 203rd from 350 starters in 16:16 and was sixth Essex runner home.

The inter girls' race over 3,500m saw Mark Hall student Jodi Ratcliff (15) placed 104th out of 350 in 14:24.

Just 22 seconds further back was Stewards Academy pupil Rosie Poole (14) in 14:46 for 159th.

The previous Saturday, three Harlow students competed for Essex County AA in the CAU Inter Counties event, screened on Sky at Cofton Park, Birmingham.

In the U-15 boys' race Canaan Solomon had an excellent race to place ninth over 4,500m in 16:34. Lewis Harknett ran well in the U-13 boys' race over 3,000m, placing 81st in 11:42.

In the U-15 girls' race over 4,000m, Jodi Ratcliff placed 115th in 19:46.

Volleyball side move closer to title

HARLOW Volleyball Club's men's team have been in great form in recent weeks with some dominant performances.

The team has won its last two matches against Southend and Chelmsford, triumphing in both with resounding three sets to zero scorelines

The results have maintained Harlow's place at the top of the Essex League with two matches remaining against Southend away and then against Tendring in

"We have already won against them in our first matches and have to do it again to win the league which I believe we can do as I think we have the best team in the league," said Harlow Volleyball Club head coach Ilia Kalanov. "If we do it it will be the greatest achievement since the club was registered three years ago. "The women's team is doing well as well, winning and losing games but that is normal as it is a rebuilding period for them. They will be stronger next season. They have very good abilities too and I am sure can achieve very good results."

Hockey teams end season on a high

HARLOW Ladies beat Basildon fifths 12-0 to end their Essex Hockey League division four campaign on a high with a seventh-placed finish.

Scorers were Tanishka Naidoo (2), Nina Johnson-Marshall, Sarah Donaghey (4), Lara Horrax (3) and Tracey Taylor (2).

Player of the match went to Sarah Donaghey.

Captain Sarah Alderson said: "In contrast to last season, the team has become really solid with a core team playing every week. We had a few ups and downs at the beginning of the season winning one week and losing the next, all with significant goal differences. This only spurred us on to find more wins and ending on a great high. We all can't wait to play again." Meanwhile, Harlow's first team also played their final Essex League pre-mier division game of the season at Basildon twos.

Harlow needed a draw or win to remain in the premier league.

Basildon went in front but a cross from Anna Ferdinando deflected off the keeper and into the goal.

A superb goal from Charlotte Byers secured a 2-1 win to keep the side in the premier division for next season.

Rockets' new line-up the 'best in premier league'

RYE House Rockets promoter Len Silver has said that the team he has assembled this season will be the best in the Premier League.

And judging by Tuesday night's tre-mendous 44-42 League Cup victory at Peterbrough Panthers he could be spot on.

Speaking as the 2014 Rockets got together for the first time, Silver was in an upbeat mood.

And at the heart of his line-up is Harlow flyer Luke Bowen.

"We all know that Luke Bowen can do brilliant things on our track and is fairly good on away tracks, but he will help keep our home record intact, said Silver. "If you look at our team all round I can't see another team out there that is as good as ours.

"At number one we've got Edward Kennett who is an outstanding rider at this level.

"I have no doubt he will be king of this track and the other tracks too. There won't be many riders out there who will beat him," he said.

"What's more he's very exciting to watch – when he goes around that track he looks spectacular.

"Then we've got a newcomer in Frenchman Matt Tresarrieu and I'm reckoning on him to be good for us on away tracks where we've lacked sometimes in the past.
"We've also got Steve Boxall. He got back into speedway last year at Kent and was absolutely outstanding, winning the National League Riders' Championship.

"To be frank he was too good for that league and that's why I've brought him in.

"He's got so much enthusiasm, and now he's got the best equipment he's ever had [although he did write off one of his bikes in the Peterborough match] and I'm expecting Steve to do great things for us here this year.

"Our skipper Jason Bunyan isn't here at the moment because he'll be riding in the New Zealand Grand

"He's been losing weight and brought two new engines, and we know he too is a spectacular rider.

"As for Jason Garrity, he's one of the most exciting riders in the country and I see no reason why he can't be a real ace in the pack.

"Simon Lambert, meanwhile, comes to us with a three point average which is an absolute steal.

'Injuries have always been our bugbear. Year after year we've suffered that awful thing [injury] so I'm praying this year we can have a reasonable run

"And if we do we'll be up there challenging for a variety of honours.

Youngsters show real rhythm to grab the medals

MEDALS galore came back with the youngsters of Harlow Rhythmic Gymnastics from the invitational novice competition in Northampton.

With all the club's gymnasts finishing in top 10 positions, the medals haul consisted of gold for Liberty Miller (8) and Emma Oakes (11), silver for Phillipa Museva (9) and bronze for Amelia Anastasi (11) and Jemma Lawrence (15).

Liberty achieved the first gold medal of the competition after finishing in first place, with team-mate Phillipa Museva following in second place in the U-10 hoop section.

In the same event Erika Lomo (8), Heba Copping-Ahmed (7) and Yurika Lomo (8) finished fifth, seventh and ninth respectively.

The second gold of the day was awarded to Emma Oakes in the U-12 ball section.

Amelia finished in fourth place,

Lucy Taylor (10) in seventh and Gemma Aves (10) ninth in the same event.

After narrowly missing out on a medal position in the ball event, Amelia went on to win the bronze medal in the U-12 free competition.

The final medal for the club was awarded to Jemma Lawrence who finished in third place in the over-12 ribbon section.

Close behind in the same event were Erin Gallagher (13) and Paige were Erni Galaguer (13) and Page McArdell (14), who finished in fourth and fifth place respectively. Shannon Faller (14) competed in two routines and placed a creditable seventh in the elite ribbon and fifth in the elite free

No missing Link as 2013 silverware blow is forgotten

HARLOW Link completed part one of what they hope will be a league and cup double with a 5-0 thrashing of Maypole Sports in the Harlow & District Football League Division Three Cup final.

The division three leaders scored the opening goal when it fell to Scott Breeds 30 yards out and he used his strength to hold off a defender before slotting it past the keeper.

On 23 minutes, Maypole's day was to become that much harder when Gareth Walsh mistimed his tackle and was sent off.

It didn't take Link long to make the most of the extra player when again Breeds latched onto a through ball and smashed home his and Link's

Link were now in total control of the game, and in the second half more pressure led to player/ manager Josh Knight adding a third.

Maypole keeper Adam Johnson pulled off three fine saves to keep the scoreline down.

Knight completed his brace after he burst into the box and beat two defenders. His shot was initially tipped away by Johnson but he reacted well to the rebound and netted.

Kyle Holloway controlled the ball on the edge of the box and produced a sweeping shot just before the final whistle to conclude the scoring.

For Link it partially erased the memory of last season's cup final disappointment.

They are in with a shout in four competitions in total, having progressed in the HDFL Cup and the Champions League as well.

HARLOW LINK: Russell, Cooper, Macleay, Knight, D. Breeds, Davis, Carter, Hawkins, K. Holloway, S. Breeds, Goddard. Subs: Messenger, J. Holloway, Tomsett, Baptiste-Peart, Bolt. MAYPOLE SPORTS: Johnson, Daniel Evans Gibbons, Griffiths, Allen, Gosnell, Wright, Walsh, Alderson, David Evans, Hood. Subs: McKeown, Franklin, Dore, Burr, Stancia.

DOUBLE VISION: Harlow Link are aiming for a league and cup double after winning the HDFL Division Three Cup final

Irish eyes smile as Harlow club lose on England duty

A TYE Green Indoor Bowls Club team represented England in the British Isles Championship, just missing out on the semi-final after defeat to Ireland in the last eight.

After becoming the English Over 60s fours champions last April, Mo Crocker, Harry Wood, Roy Buckner and John Anderson from the Harlow club, went to Stanley IBC in Durham to compete for the British Isles Championship.

After a steady start at six ends the Tye Green four were just one shot behind at 5-4 against an Irish four skipped by Roy McCune.

But at the six-end point the Irish gradually pulled away and were 26-9

In the semi-final the Irish four were beaten by the eventual winners from Scotland

Meanwhile, Tye Green's Steve Mitchinson made his British Isles Series debut when he represented

England were convincing winners 132-91 against Ireland, with Mitchinson's rink winning 22-19. Next England faced a Wales team which was missing a number of its star players such as Commonwealth Games players Robert Weale and Jason Greenslade. Mitchinson's rink established a 13-7 lead, while England were 83-31 up overall.

But over the second half of the game a combination of the English team relaxing and the Welsh fighting back, slowed the scoring down.

The Welsh rink got back to within one shot against Mitchinson's rink, but a strong finish saw the English rink run out 23-18 winners.

England won 135-83 overall. In the final game it was a straight shoot-out between England and Scotland in a packed bowls hall in Mitchinson faced Alex Marshall

MBE, the former World Number One, and the Scots built an early lead in most rinks and won on five of the six rinks overall, and by 128-85 overall.

The Harlow player's rink lost 24-8.

HAC youngsters make UK progress

THERE were personal best (PB) times aplenty as Harlow Athletic Club youngsters starred at the Essex Athletic Network Indoor Open at Chelmsford.

Rams' top five hopes look Wis-ful thinking

A TOP five finish is looking beyond the Rams after Saturday's disappointing 27-21 loss at fourth-from-bottom Wisbech in London & SE division three north east.
Lee Harron's men conclude their campaign with matches against the two bottom teams, Wymondham (home, April 5) and Canvey Island (away, April 12) when they resume after a break this coming weekend.

However, Upminster should beat third from bottom Old Brentwoods in their last match to secure fifth

The best Harlow, currently eighth, can hope for is sixth if Wanstead slip up.
It has been an inconsistent campaign which has seen them pick up some impressive wins but drop some silly points, and the Rams will know they could quite easily have finished fourth with a little bit more luck and a clinical

At Wisbech, some good kicking by Kurtis Knightley kept Harlow in the game but missed tackles allowed the home side to take the points in a closely fought match.

Wisbech got clean possession from a scrum and moved the ball out for a fifth-minute try by their outside centre who cut in for the posts, making it an easy conversion for a 7-0 lead.

Five minutes later they added an unconverted try, taking advantage of missed tackles by Harlow.

The Rams hit back and Luke Bowering picked up the ball. stormed through and past a Wisbech winger, scoring in the corner for an unconverted try.
Close to half-time, Knightly added a penalty and Harlow were 12-8 down at the break. Knightley scored two penalties in the first five minutes of the second half to put the Rams 14-12 up. But Wisbech hit back with two more tries, one converted, in the space of a few minutes, ensuring their bonus point and putting them ahead 24–14.

A Wisbech penalty made it 27–14.

Harlow hit back with only five minutes to go. Wisbech were penalised and quick thinking by Neil McMullen saw him take quick tap penalty before breaking through the middle of the defence. He offloaded to skipper Shaun Roberts who ran in the try, making it three in two games for him. Knightley added the conversion, cutting the gap to less then seven points which gave Harlow a bonus point.

Hawks cut gap at top with win

HARLOW Town maintained their play-off bid with a 2-0 victory at lowly 10-man Erith and Belvedere in Ryman League division one north on Saturday.

The Hawks gave a debut to midfielder Fabion Simms who had been signed from Calor League division one central outfit Potters Bar Town.

The first half was goalless and saw Darren Blewitt head over the home bar on 12 minutes.

At the other end, Joe Matthews headed over before Junior Dadson came close to scoring for Harlow on 42 minutes.

The Kent side went down to 10 in the 58th minute when Joe Fitzpatrick was sent off for his second yellow card, following a foul on Stan Muguo.

Harlow broke the deadlock two minutes later when Blewitt shot home after a James Smith corner was nodded down.

The points were sealed for Harlow in the 84th minute when Dadson composed himself before firing a low shot into the net.

HARLOW TOWN: Knowles, Glowacki, Eadie, Urquhart, Blewitt, Simms (Barnard 88), Dadson, Muguo, Read, J. Smith (McKenzie 77), Mathurine (Stamp 46). Subs not used: Curley, Barnard.

Dockers defeated to end bad run

JUNIOR Dadson grabbed a brace as Harlow Town registered their first victory in five matches when they won 2-0 at Tilbury in Ryman League division one north.

Dadson put the Hawks ahead when he headed over the home keeper in the 18th minute in Thursday's match.
Harlow looked the better side in the first half but the Dockers were guilty of wasting two good chances before the break.

On 25 minutes David Laird headed against the bar from a James Smith corner, and just before the break the same Hawks player had a shot superbly tipped around a post.

Alex Read and Dadson both went close to scoring in the second half.

The second goal eventually came in the 75th minute. Johnathan Glowacki played a ball over the top of the Dockers' back four for Dadson to run on to and finish well as he thumped the ball across the keeper and into the back of the net.

The victory lifted the Hawks back into third spot.

HARLOW TN: Knowles. Barnard (Simms 65), Eadie, Urquhart, Blewitt, Glowacki, Dadson, Muguo, Read (McKenzie 85), Laird (G. Smith 78), J. Smith. Subs not used: Curley, Mathurine, Simms.

Final game loss

HARLOW suffered a 5-2 loss in their final East Men's Hockey League division six south east game of the season at Clacton seconds

Three-nil down at half-time, a change of tactics and formation sparked a goal as Martin Cox's shot caused the keeper to pad the ball into his own goal. Clacton hit a fourth before Cox converted from a short corner.

The hosts added a fifth in the dying minutes.

Harlow lost key players to longterm injuries this season and fincompleting a very hilly course.

At the Milton Keynes Park run 5km, Richard Solomons finished in 255th place out of 456 finishers in 29.50.

Kinney is sent to Coventry for top time

Meanwhile, at the Brentwood Half

Marathon, Anita Vaz was 1062nd out of 2425 finishers in 1:55.34.
At the Oakley 20 mile race in Bedfordshire, Jamie Jephcott finished in 77th place out of 818 finishers in a superb 2:21.46.

He was followed home by son Daniel, in his debut at the distance, in an excellent

2:43.36 to create a new HRC U-20 record. Andy Ramage, another debutant, was 363rd in 2:52.40 and Paul Schroder was 576th in a personal best time for the distance of 3:12.25.

At a very hilly and very muddy Orion 15 mile cross country race through Epping Forest at Chingford, John Tennant finished in 125th place and was third veter-an in the 60+ age group. He clocked 2:07.02 and not far behind was Sean Flynn (159th, 2:11.59).

the Gunpowder Park run 5K at Waltham Abbey, Jason Haigh finished in seventh place out of 104 finishers in

He was followed by Robin Lozeau (32nd in 23.26), Debbie Barry (48th in 26.20) and Celia Haigh (65th in 28.35).

Dux shot down as title quest is reignited

A SPIRITED fightback against Aylesbury Dux has reignited Harlow Hawks faltering bid for promotion back to division one in the Herts Basketball

The visiting Dux opened up an early 12-2 lead, prompting a time-out to limit the damage.
The Hawks scored 12 points in the quarter through Roan Lenihan, Rimas Norkeliunas and Shab Niaz, but were 27-12 down at the first break.

Alex Hinds stepped up to the plate in the second quarter and added eight points, including two three-pointers. Baskets from Tom White, Lee Morris, Lenihan and Rich Whytock helped reduce the deficit to 11 points which, going into the second half, provided some much needed confidence with Dux 38-27 up.

Hawks came alive in the third quarter with good ball and a watertight defence and cut the gap to two points.

Morris made two important three pointers, but the points were shared around with Lee Jones and Russ Stonehouse among those chipping in.

The hosts were 55-53 behind heading into the last quarter.

A flurry of baskets from Lee Jones, Lenihan and Norkeliunas meant Hawks took the lead after two minutes, which was extended further by baskets from Lenihan and a three pointer from Niaz. Hinds (5), White (2) and Lenihan (6) helped close out the match with baskets in the last couple of minutes to establish an eight-point advantage and know they can close the gap on the leaders to just five points if they can compléte the double over the Kent outfit.

Hawks go for double p to vanquish VCD

"It's a big game. We had a really good result away to them. We played a certain way against them. We will look at it again and we might play a certain way again," said Chapman, left. Speaking after Tuesday's 3-1 victory at Waltham Abbey, he said: 'That's three wins on the bounce. confidence is there. We are more than capable of getting another three points on Saturday.'

Chapman knows a lot of the teams challenging for the title and the play-offs must meet each other, so the title remains up for grabs.

"We have got to play VCD, we've got to play Maldon, Witham and Needham Market. They are the only teams that we have got to play that are in and around the play-offs. Everyone else is not in contention.

"If we get three points it will be massive, but if we don't it won't be the end of the world "

Harlow have pace on the flanks in Shane Stamp and Junior Dadson, a clinical edge in attack in Alex Read, and finesse in James Smith, who excelled in the hole behind Read against Abbey.
But Chapman is just as pleased with his defence, and centre-half Josh Urquhart was outstanding against their Essex rivals.

"The biggest thing for me, sec-ond half, was the way we defended. We were under a bit of pressure at times," said the Hawks boss.
"I said to them after the Sudbury match that we had three matches that we had to win and we have done that. We have conceded only

Pep talk from boss sparks Read as he closes in on club record

AFTER a run of six games without a goal, Hawks striker Alex Read ended his drought to close to just three of equalling Jeff Wood's club record from the 1988-89 season in the 3-1 win at Waltham Abbey on Tuesday.

And Harlow Town boss Danny Chapman revealed a pep talk from the boss helped Read, pictured right, as he had not scored since his hat-trick in a 5-2 win against Burnham on February 25 and had missed a penalty against AFC Sudbury in that time. Chapman said: "Alex had not scored for a few games and with all strikers they need that [a goal]. Alex said to me 'I haven't scored for a little while'. I just said to him you need to relax. You are doing too much work outside the penalty area. You need to concentrate on getting back inside the penalty area and it will come. He scored tonight and I'm sure he'll be fine.

"As much as it's nice for him [to break the record], I don't think he's too worried. The main concern for him is to keep scoring goals for us to win football matches. I would be massively surprised if he didn't get to that target."

He now needs just three more to level the record and has eight games left. The victory stretched Harlow's unbeaten run to five games, and erased the memory of August when they threw away a 3-0 lead and lost 4-3 to Abbey.

There were a few familiar faces in the Abbey side for Harlow, with former player-assistant boss Christian Wheeler at the back, Tom Bruno in midfield, James Peagram in attack and former Hawks boss Marvin Samuel on the bench.

Harlow took the lead after only seven minutes. Fabion Simms stormed forward and played a neat ball into the right side of the box for Junior Dadson who rifled a powerful strike which gave Abbey keeper Matt Gill no chance. After Matt Attard cleared Shane Stamp's overhead looping shot off the line, Harlow netted a second through Read on 39 minutes. A long ball from the back found the striker who used his pace to nip through the static Abbey defence and lob Gill, finding the top right corner. And on the stroke of half-time a wonderful piece of individual skill made it 3-0. James Smith beat two defenders before skilfully slotting the ball beyond the reach of Gill and into the bottom right corner.

When Chris Sargent's shot hit Darren Blewitt's hand, Abbey were awarded a rather fortunate penalty which was tucked away by Joe Pearman on 84 minutes into the top right corner, but Harlow were worthy winners. "It was never a penalty. I don't know [Blewitt] how was supposed to get out of the way of it," said Chapman. HARLOW TN: Knowles,
